THE REQUEST FROM OUR MISSION PARTNER IN MEXICO:

Like the rest of Mexico, Guadalajara is predominantly Catholic. However, evangelical churches are emerging, and the local pastors place a strong emphasis on outreach. Guadalajara is also the "Silicon Valley" of Mexico and materialism has become pervasive, in spite of local pockets of poverty. We are in the state of Jalisco, which is the birthplace of the mariachi band, and music dominates. We would like to use the medium of music to reach out to the community and help build and support the local churches.

PROJECT OBJECTIVE:

Our objective is to reach out to the community through outdoor events to encourage people to attend the various churches that are beginning.

PROJECT HIGHLIGHTS:

The ministry of the music group would be outreach into the community via concerts at plazas, schools, churches and getting together for an evening concert and shopping centers. Some of the churches will have a Sunday afternoon outreach to the community on their own property involving music, food and sharing of the Gospel. Opportunities also exist to help support local orphanages and underprivileged children.

COST:

The cost of this Project is based on transportation, accommodations, and can be divided into easy, multiple payments.
